

TEDx Boston

March 6, Talks on Countdown to Artificial General Intelligence (AGI)
2022 was a breakthrough year for progress in Artificial Intelligence (AI). This year's advances in generative models include large language models like GPT-3.5 and ChatGPT, cross-modal models like DALL-E 2 and Stable Diffusion, and multi-modal models like Gato. The Metaculus community estimate for the arrival date of "Weak AGI" collapsed from 2042 to 2027.

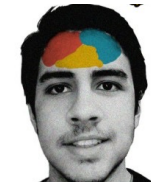

In 2023, on the cusp of an inflection point in the capabilities of AI, we stand on the shoulders of these accelerating technologies, ready to influence every part of human society. Together, we gather to discuss what this future could look like -- overcoming outstanding challenges that exist in deep learning and AI, and unlocking new heights in our own human intelligence. We have curated ideas/visions of what this future could look like?
